2 Summary of significant accounting policies

2.1 Basis of preparation of financial statements

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared on accrual basis, under the historical cost convention, on the principles applicable to a going concern and in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles in India (Indian GAAP). These financial statements have been prepared to comply in all material aspects with the accounting standards notified under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2021, specified under section 133 and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

2.2 Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent liabilities at the end of reporting period. Although these estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events and actions, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in the outcomes requiring a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets or liabilities in future period(s). Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future period(s). Significant estimates used by management in the preparation of these financial statements include revenue recognition based on percentage of completion method and related costs.

2.3 Revenue recognition

Revenue in respect to contracts for construction of Solar/Wind project is recognised as per AS 7 "Construction contracts"

Revenue in case of only transfer of goods is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership are transferred to customers as per AS 9 "Revenue recognition".

Revenue in respect to other than construction contracts is recognised based on proportionate completion method if the services rendered to customers consists of more than one act as per AS 9 "Revenue recognition".

Revenue for the services rendered other than construction contracts to customers is recognised based upon completed service method when the service consists of only one act as per AS 9 "Revenue recognition".

Revenue arising from the use by others of enterprise resources yielding interest, royalties and dividends will be recognised when no significant uncertainty as to measurability or collectability exists. These revenues are recognised on the following bases:

- (i) Interest : on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the rate applicable.
- (ii) Royalties : on an accrual basis in accordance with the terms of the relevant agreement.
- (iii) Dividends from investments in shares Disclosure : when the owner's right to receive payment is established.

2.4 Property, Plant & Equipment

Tangible assets

Tangible assets are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost comprises of the purchase price, borrowing costs, if capitalization criteria are met, and also includes costs that are directly attributable to bring the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. Subsequent expenditure related to an item of tangible asset is added to its book value only if it increases the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance. All other expenses on existing tangible assets, including day-to-day repair and maintenance expenditure and cost of replacing parts, are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss for the period during which such expenses are incurred.

Intangible Assets

The cost of an intangible asset comprises its purchase price, including any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable by the enterprise from the taxing authorities), and any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use. Directly attributable expenditure includes, for example, professional fees for legal services. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving.

2.5 Depreciation & Amortization

Depreciation on tangible assets would be provided on the written down value method using the rates arrived at based on the useful lives estimated by the management, as specified in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. The parts of an asset having significant cost and having different useful life would be depreciated separately.

Leasehold improvements would be depreciated over the relevant lease period(s) including renewable period(s) or over their useful economic life, whichever is shorter.

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortisation period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates.

2.6 Impairment of assets

Assessment is done at each balance sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an asset (tangible and intangible) may be impaired. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the asset/cash generating unit is made. Recoverable amount is higher of an asset's or cash generating unit's net selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. The smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets, is considered as a cash generating unit (CGU). An asset or CGU whose carrying value exceeds its recoverable amount is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. Assessment is also done at each balance sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in prior accounting periods may no longer exist or may have decreased. An impairment loss is reversed to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined if no impairment loss had previously been recognised.

2.7 Borrowing cost

Borrowing cost includes interest, upfront fee / processing charges, loan syndication fees, letter of credit / letter of comfort charges, interest on debentures etc. Such costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the respective qualifying asset. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur.

2.8 Tax on income

Tax expense generally comprises of current tax provision and deferred tax adjustments as and when they arise. Current income-tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Deferred income taxes reflect the impact of timing differences between taxable income and accounting income originating during the current year and reversal of timing differences for the earlier years. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realised in future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carried forward loss under taxation laws, deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is a virtual certainty of realisation of such assets.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date. The Company writes-down the carrying amount of deferred tax asset to the extent that it is no longer reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which deferred tax asset can be realized. Any such write-down is reversed to the extent that it becomes reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available.

Unrecognised deferred tax assets of earlier years are re-assessed and recognised to the extent that it has become reasonably certain that future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

Subject to the above, deferred tax adjustment(s) arising out of the timing differences originating during the tax holiday period and reversing after the expiry of the tax holiday period would be recognized in the financial statements, as and when they arise.

2.9 Provisions and contingent liabilities

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the company or a present obligation that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements unless the occurrence of contingent liability is remote.

An 'onerous contract' is a contract in which the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it. Thus, for a contract to qualify as an onerous contract, the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligation under the contract should exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it. The unavoidable costs under a contract reflect the least net cost of exiting from the contract, which is the lower of the cost of fulfilling it and any compensation or penalties arising from failure to fulfil it.

2.10 Earnings/(Loss) per share

The earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share comprise of the net profit/(loss) after tax. The number of shares used in computing the basic earnings per share is the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. The number of shares used in computing diluted earnings per share comprises the weighted average shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share, and also the weighted average number of shares, if any which would have been issued on the conversion of dilutive potential equity shares.

2.11 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprises generally of cash at bank and in hand and short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less.

2.12 Lease

Where the Company is the lessee

Leases where the lessor effectively retains substantially all the risks and benefits of ownership of the leased term, are classified as operating leases. Operating lease payments would be recognised as an expense and charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease terms.

CIN : U40106KA2021PLC144691
(All amounts in Indian rupees lakhs, unless otherwise stated)

2.13 Investments

Investments are classified as long term investments and current investments. Current investments are in the nature of current assets, although the common practice may be to include them in investments. Investments other than current investments are classified as long term investments, even though they may be readily marketable.

- a) The carrying amount for current investments is the lower of cost and fair value. In respect of investments for which an active market exists, market value generally provides the best evidence of fair value.
- b) Long-term investments are usually carried at cost. However, when there is a decline, other than temporary, in the value of a long term investment, the carrying amount is reduced to recognise the decline.
- c) Profit & Losses on sale of investments are recognised on its disposal.

2.14 Foreign currency translation

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the reporting currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount, the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction. Foreign currency non-monetary items are reported using the closing rate. Exchange differences arising on the settlement of non-monetary items at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded during the year, are realised as income or as expenses in the year in which they arise.

2.15 Employee benefits

i. Short Term employee benefits :

Short-term employee benefits, such as wages, salaries and social security contributions, paid annual leave, profit-sharing and bonuses (if payable within twelve months of the end of the period).

ii. Post Employment Benefits

a) Company is following defined benefit plan for gratuity. In books gratuity is provided on the basis of actuarial valuation, using projected unit credit method as at each balance sheet date.

The Company recognised the following changes in defined benefit obligation as an expense in statement of profit or loss:

- i) Service cost comprising of current service cost,
- ii) past service cost gains and loss on entitlements and non-routine settlement. • Net interest expenses or income.

b) The Company provides leave benefits to its employees under which leave can be accumulated and carried forward as per company policy. Unavailed leave can be availed during the service period or encashed only at the time of separation from the Company.

The liability for such long-term compensated absences is provided based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 15 – Employee Benefits. The benefit is unfunded, and no separate fund is maintained.

iii. Defined Contribution Plan

Fixed contributions to Provident Fund and Employee State Insurance made on monthly basis with relevant authorities are absorbed in the Profit and Loss Account.

2.16 Valuation of Inventory

Material comprises modules, wires, cables, components, stores and spares. Stock in trade comprises of land (Including agreements for sale & Lease Rights) acquired for Solar EPC projects.

Inventories are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value; cost is determined on the Specific identification method. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

2.17 Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current / non-current classification. An asset is treated as current when it is:

- a) Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
 - b) Held primarily for the purpose of trading
 - c) Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or
 - d) Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.
- All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- a) It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- b) It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
- c) It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- d) There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities. The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

2.18 Changes in Accounting Policies

A change in an accounting policy will be made only if the adoption of a different accounting policy is required by statute or for compliance with an accounting standard or if it is considered that the change would result in a more appropriate presentation of the financial statements of the enterprise.

2.19 Segment Reporting

The Company identifies reportable segments based on the nature of products and services, the risks and returns, and the internal business reporting systems. The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are the same as those used in the preparation of the financial statements of the Company. Revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities directly attributable to segments are reported under each segment. Items that are not directly attributable or allocable to segments on a reasonable basis are reported as "unallocated." Inter-segment revenues are accounted for at cost plus appropriate margin and are eliminated in the consolidated segment results.

31 Segment reporting

The primary segments of the Company are its business segments based on service categories as follows:

- a) Engineering & procurement Services
- b) Others less than 10% of total revenues

The accounting policies used for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies used in the preparation of the financial statements

Revenue in relation to segments are categorised based on items that are separately identifiable to that segment, while direct expenses that can be allocated to particular segment have been used for determining the segment results. However there are several expenses that are not specifically allocable to any individual segment since the underlying assets and services are used interchangeably. Hence the Company is of the view that it is not practicable to provide segment disclosures relating to such expenses and accordingly such expenses are separately disclosed as 'unallocated' and directly charged against total income.

Since the company's facilities, resources, and infrastructure are utilized interchangeably across its EPC, Asset Management, and Operations & Maintenance segments, it is not feasible to allocate specific assets to any individual segment. Additionally, many of the company's key customers and suppliers are common across these segments. Given these operational dynamics, the company believes that providing segment-specific disclosures for assets and liabilities is not practicable. Accordingly, these items are presented under a separate category labelled as 'unallocated' in the segment reporting.

Return On Capital Employed(%)	Earnings before interest & taxes	Capital Employed = Tangible Net Worth + Total Debt + Deferred Tax Liability	31.05%	57.03%	-45.57	Refer Below Note:8

Reasons for Change:

Note:

1) Return on Equity:

The decline in ROE during the current year is primarily on account of an increase in average shareholder's equity due to capital raised through private placement amounting to ₹15 crore in September 2024. While the company continues to be profitable, the increase in the equity base has resulted in a lower ROE as compared to the previous year. The benefits from the deployment of additional capital are expected to accrue over subsequent financial years.

2) Debt Service Coverage Ratio

The Debt Service Coverage Ratio (DSCR) for the year has declined compared to the previous year primarily due to the commencement of repayment obligations, including both interest and principal instalments, relating to the new term loan availed during the year. In the previous year, the Company did not have any term loan borrowings and, therefore, had no corresponding repayment obligations.

3) Inventory Turnover ratio:

The decline in the ratio is primarily due to an increase in the average inventory levels during the year and drop in sales. Increase in inventory levels is primarily attributable to Goods in transit.

 (All amounts in Indian rupees lakhs, unless otherwise stated)

- 4) Trade Receivables Turnover Ratio:
 The decline in the ratio is primarily due to an increase in average trade receivables during the year and reduction in sales. Increase in average trade receivables is attributable to significant billing toward the year-end. The ratio does not reflect a delay in collections but is rather the result of timing of revenue recognition toward the end of the reporting period.
- 5) Trade Payables Turnover Ratio:
 The decline is primarily attributable to a significant increase in average trade payables during the year and reduction in purchases during the year. This increase in average trade payables is due to higher purchases made toward the end of the financial year, resulting in elevated closing trade payables and/or extended credit terms obtained from vendors.
- 6) Net Capital Turnover Ratio:
 The decline is primarily due reduction in the sales. Reduction in sales is attributable to prudent business practice of using strict credit control mechanism to ensure healthy balance sheet and profitability. Net working capital has also increased as compared to previous year, this increase is primarily due to majority of the business happening in the second half of the financial year resulting into increased receivables and increased payables.
- 7) Net Profit Ratio:
 The increase in Net Profit Ratio is primarily due to the execution of high-margin projects during the current year compared to the previous year. Additionally, better cost management and improved operational efficiency have contributed to the higher net profit margins.
- 8) Return On Capital Employed:
 Despite improving profitability in percentage terms and maintaining it in absolute terms, return on capital employed is lesser than the previous year. In the previous year, the Company raised fresh equity of ₹1540.40 lakhs availed a term loan of ₹149.12 lakhs, both of which have contributed to an increase in Capital Employed for the ratio. Benefits of the increase in capital employed are expected in the coming years in terms of higher revenue and profitability.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing specified under section 143(10) of the Act (SAs). Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Information Other than Standalone Financial Statements and Auditor's Report thereon

The Company's Board of Directors and management are responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Boards' report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this Auditors Report.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the Director's report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions, as applicable under the applicable laws and regulations.

Management's and Board of Directors Responsibilities for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management and board of directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.
